AK ALL DAY WALL TILE

The AK All Day Wall Tile was originally developed as a gift for my friend, Thom Jones, of Semi Good Furniture (www.semigoods.com); if you don't know Thom's work, do yourself a favor and check it out!

Anyhow, I made this AK wall tile for Thom, cast it, packed it, but never shipped it. I don't know, I guess I just never had the time. So there it sat, for years. Finally, one day I opened the package (it was like a present to myself!), and rediscovered how awesome this tile was. At that point I started pouring our leftover mix into the mold, and before I knew it I had AK tiles falling out of the rafters.

I decided to put them to good use, and tiled one wall of the studio restroom with the tiles. I love them - they are all slightly different shades of grey and different thicknesses, so there is this great texture and shadow play.
